RE: Channel XXX presentation of
The XXX Simulated International Conference on the Middle East

What would happen if the UN hosted a conference on peace in the Middle East that brought together Saddam Hussein and Bill Clinton, Ariel Sharon and Yassir Arafat, Yitzak Rabin and a representative of Hammas, as well as leaders of Syria, Jordan, Egypt, Kuwait, Iran, and others?

Channel 54 will air a three hour presentation by high school students from XXX. They will present their research on the current conflicts in the Middle East by simulating the above leaders in an international conference. After opening statements and heated debates, they will vote on various proposals for bringing peace to the Middle East.
