

Hi! This is Ali again! The language I speak everyday is called Persian. It is very different from English. We have a different alphabet and we write from right to left instead of left to right like you! We even open books from the opposite side!

I wrote my name at the bottom of this paper. Can you write it too?

علی

