

Evidence Card for Investigator #5 –An Established Chinese Restaurant in Stone Town, Zanzibar

Although Zanzibar is an archipelago (series of islands), it is not at all isolated from the rest of the world. In fact, quite the opposite is true. For thousands of years, people have traveled here from the rest of the world: from Oman, of course, but also from places like Iran, India, and China. This Chinese restaurant in Stone Town, Zanzibar, has provided good food for several generations. As in the U.S., Chinese cuisine is part of Zanzibar’s rich and varied culture.
